

Ulrich Wilfried Feukouo `24 Cameroon

My name is Ulrich Wilfried Feukouo, and I am in my final semester of the Finance program at SUNY Canton. I transferred from an international program in Cameroon to SUNY Canton, primarily drawn by the campus location. Nestled away from the hustle and bustle of big cities, SUNY Canton offers a serene environment conducive to focused study.

What I appreciate most about SUNY Canton is the accessibility and expertise of my professors. Unlike my experience in Cameroon, here my professors are not only more reachable, but also bring real-world experience to their teaching, adding a valuable dimension to my education.

On campus, my favorite spot is the Roos House. As someone who values sports and well-being, the Roos House provides all the facilities I need to engage in the sports I love. It has become my go-to place for staying active and maintaining a healthy lifestyle.

This semester, I am serving not only as a student ambassador, but also as a student-athlete. I love these roles because they allow me to learn more about American culture, which is very important to me as an international student. They have provided me with wonderful opportunities to engage with the campus community and deepen my understanding of life in the United States.

GREAT MAJORS, GREAT CAREERS.
