WHAT'S AVAILABLE?

This is one of the first questions we get asked. Financial aid is any type of assistance a student receives to help pay for their education. It is awarded by federal and state governments as well as private agencies. Aid includes grants, scholarships, work programs, loans and other resources. Most families use federal and state aid but when it is not enough, they look to the private sector for assistance.

Step #1 – FSA ID

Create your FSA ID at studentaid.gov/fsa-id/create-account/launch. Your parent will need to create their own FSA ID to sign your application and download the app if you use that to apply.

TIP: You and your parent must use different email and mobile phone numbers when linking your FSA ID for password recovery purposes. Be sure to set this up as it is a secure federal website and once locked out is difficult to regain access.

Step #2 – FAFSA

Complete the FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) application process at studentaid.gov. Completing this application applies you for all types of federal assistance including grants, loans and work-study programs.

Step #3 – New York

New York State residents will be given a link to NYS HESC at the end of the FAFSA application to automatically link over to that application. You can also go to hesc.ny.gov to complete the application.

Step #4 – Scholarships

Start looking for any scholarship opportunities. The applications should be free to apply, be aware of scams that ask you to pay a fee upfront.

If you graduated from a New York State high school and/or have qualified under the Dream Act in the past, you may still be able to receive funding from New York State.

Here is a list of the most common awards, a full list can be viewed online at www.hesc.ny.gov .

1. Tuition Assistance Program (TAP)
2. Aid for Part Time Study (APTS)
3. Veteran Tuition Award (VTA)
4. SUNY Tuition Credit
5. Educational Opportunity Program (EOP)
6. Academic Excellence Scholarship
7. Excelsior Scholarship

NEW YORK STATE AID:

TAP Grant: Complete application at hesc.ny.gov

Must file FAFSA application first.

Excelsior Scholarship: www.hesc.ny.gov/excelsior

Application available in late spring.

Non-New York State residents

If you are not a New York State resident, then you should check with your home state for available programs.

Launched in 2017, this program can cover up to the full cost of tuition only for New York State residents. Families are often confused and think it's a "free" college scholarship. However, the college bill includes charges for tuition, fees, room, and meals. This scholarship only pays the cost of tuition IF it's not already covered by another grant or scholarship program.

Students must meet the following criteria:

- NYS Resident;
- Family adjusted gross income of $125,000 or less based on current 2024-2025 income requirements;
- First-time student in 2022 or later who meets the cumulative credit requirements.

To apply the student must complete the application process and sign their contract by all posted deadlines. The award amount is calculated by taking the cost of tuition only and subtracting any other grants and scholarships. To keep the award in future semesters the student must continue to be full-time and complete a minimum of 30 credits per year. Cumulative credits must be applicable toward the current degree program and the student must be on track to graduate on-time with no gap in enrollment regardless of any program changes.

WHAT ABOUT SCHOLARSHIPS?

Thanks to the generosity of alumni, friends, and community members, the Canton College Foundation awards approximately $400,000 in scholarships every year! Make sure to complete the SUNY Canton online scholarship application to be considered for one of our scholarships.

Scholarships are available on campus as well as in your communities. Seek out as many scholarships as you can!

THINGS TO BE AWARE OF

- Date the application opens.
- Date the application closes.
- Preferred deadline - some applications do not close but instead have a preferred application deadline.
- The more detailed your application and/or essay, the better. Take time to proofread and ask someone else to review it.
- Tips on the essay: It's not always the easiest task to self-promote when writing your essay so you may find it helpful to ask others for guidance. Remember the person reading your essay likely doesn't know anything about you so the more details about yourself you include the better.

You should never have to pay to apply for financial aid or a scholarship. Beware of scams.

OTHER FUNDING RESOURCES

When federal and state assistance are not enough to cover your expenses, there are other resources you can look into for assistance. Below is a list of some of these options, eligibility for each varies.

Private Loans

A list of known lenders is available on our website. We recommend that you check with your own bank/credit union first to see if they offer student loans and if you would qualify for any discounts through them. Unlike the federal student loans, private loans are based on the credit history and income of the applicant. As a result, most students need to have a credit worthy co-signer for loan approval. A few companies will allow someone other than the parent to apply for the loan directly. There are several options to consolidate these loans after graduation. Typically, once you graduate your income will increase and there would be less of a need to have any co-signer (releasing any co-signer from the original obligation).

Other resources

- Acces-VR: Students who received assistance in high school should speak with their Acces-VR counselor about opportunities for assistance in college. Typically they have strict deadlines and income verification requirements.
- WIA: Workforce Investment Act, for those who are seeking employment in a qualified field.
- Military Benefits: Various benefits are available to military personnel and their families. These often tend to be based on the military service of the individual or parent.
- Employer Tuition Reimbursement: Several companies offer tuition benefits, check with your or your parent's employer to see if any are available.

Payment Plans

The college offers a payment plan. Bills are issued each semester and you have the option to take the balance due and break it down into monthly payments. The balance must be paid in full before the next semester begins.

New York State DREAM Act

The DREAM Act gives undocumented and other students access to TAP, the Excelsior Scholarship, and other state-administered scholarships. To determine your eligibility and to apply, visit www.hesc.ny.gov/dream

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Do I have to wait to be admitted to apply for financial aid?

No! You can apply at any time for free. Normally the FAFSA becomes available October 1st each year, but the 2025-2026 FAFSA will not be available until December 1, 2024.

What if I miss a deadline?

It's not too late! You may miss out on some limited aid but should still apply as soon as possible.

I won't be eligible, should I still apply?

Yes. All students are eligible for at least a loan. Often families are surprised by what they get offered. We recommend everyone applies the first year.

Do I have to report my parents' information?

If you are under age 24 and unmarried with no children, then you will most likely have to. Including their information does not mean your parents' are required to pay anything.

What if I don't get enough aid to pay my bill?

In addition to the federal and state aid options, there are private loan programs. There are also a variety of other programs available for families from various funding sources including military benefits, scholarships, workforce investment act, and assistance for learning disabled students. Payment plans are also available each semester.

Could I lose my financial aid eligibility?

Yes. As you progress each semester there are academic requirements that you need to make sure you meet. Your eligibility can also be impacted by attending part-time (less than 12 credits), failing to declare a major and/or taking courses that are not applicable to your current degree program.

How do I get my financial aid to appear on the bill?

You need to have completed all financial aid paperwork for your financial aid to show as a credit. Missing paperwork prevents the aid from showing.
